Lerning german through theater performance: for everyone, who wants to improve his/her language skills, or the ones who are looking for the possibility to come into conversation playfully, we offer in this intercultural project the possibility to try out different expressive possibilities and to learn more from each other.

Whether with hands, feet, music and movement, with different spoken languages, mimicry and gesture, we want to invent small scenes: tell me about you! Nothing is so exciting as to get to know the people, their cultures, their countries, their way of life, and their dreams.

The project is aimed at people who have experienced migration as well as for interested citizens from the district of Reutlingen.
